

Lawyer with Focus Transaction Banking & Platforms with an Interest in Blockchain Technology

For a very renowned Swiss Bank based in Zurich we are looking for a dynamic, independent and versatile lawyer with a convincing appearance and interest in technological developments as well as willingness to take on responsible and challenging tasks in a broad international legal environment.

An in-depth knowledge of transaction banking and interest in blockchain technology are important for this position.

- Legal advice to the bank's internal business partners in connection with cryptocurrencies, tokens and blockchain technology
- Legal advice and support to day-to-day operations and projects of Transaction Banking, which provides global custody and global execution services to third-party banks, among others
- Legal reviews and advice in relation to trading venue connections
- Legal support for day-to-day business in relation to platform services
- Legal advice and support in projects for the further development of platform services
- Drafting, reviewing and negotiating all types of contracts
- Simplification as well as monitoring and improving the quality of documentation
- Monitoring, internal communication and implementation of legal and regulatory developments in Switzerland and abroad
- Regular review and improvement of internal processes
- Close cooperation with other legal departments, know-how exchange

You bring:

- Degree from a Swiss university (licentiate or master in law)
- Swiss bar exam is an advantage
- At least 3 - 4 years of relevant work experience as a lawyer in a financial services company or in a commercial law firm with a focus on capital markets law and/or investment or transaction banking
- Technical flair and interest in new technologies and digitalization in finance
- Very good oral and written communication skills in German and English, French or another national language would be an advantage

Your are:

- Conscientious and structured way of working with good communication skills
- Team player
- Flexible and creative thinking person with hands-on mentality
- Due to the direct contact with the front line, assertiveness, resilience and professionalism as well as a convincing appearance are required